Dear Owen,

The St Kilda Football Club is proud to have continued our partnership with Musashi in 2010.

As each player at the Saints requires certain specific needs, a supplement provider that creates a diverse range of supplements and products to fit each individual player's requirements is essential. Musashi's extensive range of products fit this perfectly.

The use of Musashi products is now considered mandatory practice as a part of the preparation, conditioning and recovery of our players. From their range of Amino acids to the new Protein powders and supplements, Musashi have the right product to suit any health or fitness objective.

For any athlete wanting to gain an edge over the competition, there is no doubt that you should integrate Musashi's extensive range of nutritional supplements into your training regime.

Regards,

David Misson
